Description on activities that inculcate values; necessary to render students in to responsible citizens

Starting from 11/2018, when we first realized we were seriously contemplating introducing a mandatory Audit Course on 'Constitution of India', the institution started to push the idea of increasing awareness among employees about constitution and more importantly on 'Fundamental Rights' and directive principles of Indian Constitution.

Since that time, the institution has been focused on raising awareness among the teaching staff about these aspects of Indian Constitution, with the idea that through them the same can be percolated to the students over period of time.

The focus of the sensitization was primarily:

- Preamble
- Directive Principles
- Fundamental Rights
- Articles 14 to 32 covering the 6 fundamental rights
- Watershed judgments like 'Kesavananda Bharati Case' that laid out the sanctity of basic structure of constitution.

The methodology defined and adopted for increasing awareness was:

- Identify an internal resource person(s) who has the interest and who could explore the above in detail and intern educate/inform others about the same through targeted sessions.
- Subsequently, invite guest lecture from eminent constitutional experts or local legal minds that have expertise on the above aspects for the benefit of our staff.
- Have the humanities department staff members work on the curriculum plan for the mandatory audit course on 'Constitution of India' and build knowledge base to effectively deliver those lectures.

The following sessions were conducted by the internal resource person over the course of last 2 years (with a break during COVID times):

11/2018: One generic teaching staff session explaining the rationale on why it would be good to exposure on certain aspects of 'Constitution of India' by an internal resource person.

02/2019: A detailed session focused mainly on Directive principles and 6 fundamental rights and how and why 'Right to Property' was removed as a fundamental right including the genesis of it through the land ceiling acts and 9th Schedule. This was done again by an internal resource person. The invitees to the session were all teaching staff on voluntary basis. It was attended by about 57 of the teaching staff.

05/2019: Humanities staff got ready with curriculum and material framework for delivering classes on constitution for the A2 regulation year I students.

07/2019: Started detailed session with a shorter group of people. Completed sessions for 3 departments teaching staff members namely CSE, IT, and ECE.

10/2019: Had a Guest lecture by the lawyer attached to MANSAS educational institutions to our staff members on fundamental rights.

10/2019: Session on 'Basic Structure of Constitution' and right to amend it including conflict between article 13 and article 368, Golaknath case, Kesavananda Bharati case, Mills Case and how the balance between Judiciary and Legislature is in terms of amendments of constitution is. This was delivered by an internal resource person who has a passion for 'Constitution of India'.
